

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Nebraska Pulmonary Specialties Opens Clinic Inside Think Whole Person Healthcare

Omaha, NE [January 5, 2021] — Think Whole Person Healthcare announced today that Nebraska Pulmonary Specialties will open a clinic inside its building at 7100 W. Center Road this week. Nebraska Pulmonary Specialties is a leader in offering comprehensive diagnostic services.

Experienced board certified physicians and advanced practice clinicians will be on site at Think on Thursdays and Fridays to perform pulmonary function tests and procedures, assist with smoking cessation and more.

Think is one of the largest independent primary care centers in the U.S. with more than 45,000 patients and a central location. The addition of the Nebraska Pulmonary Specialties clinic expands the center's service to patients and neighbors.

"The Nebraska Pulmonary Specialties clinic at Think enhances the cache of services we offer to people in our community," said Think CEO James Canedy, M.D. "Our care philosophies align very well, centering on a commitment to put the patient first. We seek partners that offer low cost, high-quality healthcare as we do."

"Nebraska Pulmonary Specialties is excited to collaborate with the physicians and leadership at Think, and for the opportunity to expand our offering of excellent pulmonary care to more in the Omaha metro area," said Abbie Fougeron, CMPE, Nebraska Pulmonary Specialties Administrator.

Interviews and photos are available upon request.

About Think Whole Person Health Care

Think Whole Person Healthcare is one of the largest independent primary care centers in the United States. The clinic employs over 300 people across a wide range of primary care disciplines serving more than 45,000 patients.

Think is an Accountable Care Organization specifically geared towards serving the needs of patients with chronic conditions who need ongoing care coordination to keep them on goal and out of the hospital.

Opened on July 6, 2015, Think takes a team approach to managing its patients with Physicians, Care Coordinators, Clinical Pharmacists and RNs all working at the center of the team in a unique, integrated approach to managing older, sicker patients with multiple chronic conditions.

The clinic also has a dispensing pharmacy and key primary care functions such as Podiatry, Physical Therapy, Psychiatry and Optometry. Labs, X-Ray, CT, Mammograms, Ultrasound and Dexa are also all done in-house in the custom-built center. A convenience care center is also available for walk-in patients.

Think physicians and clinicians see over 2,500 patients on a daily basis. Think is totally focused on customer service and committed to its mission of providing better outcomes for patients, giving them an enhanced health experience and lowering the cost of their care through looking at the whole person.
